A Few General Issues

- I care about the form of the Six P's. It goes something like this:
 - Three semicolons
 - A space
 - The keyword "Procedure" (optionally in all-caps)
 - A carriage return
 - Three semicolons
 - Three spaces
 - The name of the procedure
 - A carriage return
 - Three semicolons
 - The keyword "Purpose" (optionally in all-caps)
 - A carriage return
 - Three semicolons
 - Three spaces
 - A one-sentence description of the procedure

 - When you notice yourself writing similar code, you should think about ways to avoid duplication.
 - I won't post all of the answers online, since students do a remarkable job of finding previous answers, and I do a poor job of hiding them.
 - If you need answered emailed to you, please let me know.
