Overview:

- Students discuss programming techniques.

A Process for Discussing Projects

- First, we'll debrief a bit about yesterday's discussion.
- Next, we'll look at any remaining images.
- Finally, we'll start looking at processes used to create these images.
 - You'll pick some images that you want to know about.
 - The authors will describe their code.
 - Once in a while, we'll even run it (if possible).
