Preliminaries

Admin

- Although the title of the outline is Git, we’re going to do some first day of class stuff.
- I’ve modified my plans for research since early fall. You can hear about them at 4:30 today, or again in next week of this class.
- The change in research plans means that the way I teach this class has changed since last year.
  - I expect most of you will find the new version as valuable as the old.
